

Privacy Agreement for Private Sky

INTRODUCTION

This website is owned and managed by Private Sky. Private Sky considers Internet user privacy and data protection to be of vital importance.

Private Sky complies with the Data Protection Act 1998 in relation to all processing of personal data supplied to us by users and other personal data in our possession for any reason.

PERSONAL INFORMATION

Due to the nature of the service this site is providing users will be asked where required to provide personal information to register for a service. You may choose not to provide us with this information; however, this may limit our ability to provide you with a specific service or offer you personalised content. Please note that all the information you provide to Private Sky will be stored and processed in the Republic of Ireland.

Other companies that are linked to our site may collect information about you when you visit their site. Private Sky are not able to control the collection of this information. You should contact these advertisers or content providers directly if you have any questions about their use of this information.

SHARING OF DATA

Private Sky will not disclose any of your personal information to a third party without your consent, unless we believe, in good faith, that the law requires it or that the rights or property of the Private Sky website need to be protected.
